DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: paragraph [008], line 29, paragraph [0019], line 5, line 11 and line 14, "slideabley" should be changed to --slidably--; paragraph [0010], line 8, the spelling of "pivotably" should be corrected; paragraph [0013], "A-A'" should be changed to --A-A--; paragraph [0017], line 2, a comma should be added after "composed of a ball"; and paragraph [0019], line 10, "a drum" should be --the drum--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 2 and 7 are objected to because of the following informalities: claim 2, lines 3, 8 and 10, "slideabley" should be --slidably--; and claim 7, line 2, "agains" should be --against--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 is written as a series of results rather than positive structure for accomplishing the recited functions. The claim should recite the various elements that go to make up the device as positive structure, properly connected and correlated so as to constitute a useful, working organization. Claim 6, line 5, "active on" is vague as to the relationship between the drum shaft and clutch.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Doust. Doust teaches the use of a frictional brake (clutch) "h" having an arm "g" in contact with a retraction spring which, when expanded to a certain degree operates the brake to engage a winding drum (or shaft) "G". It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the braking device of Doust with any spring operated retractor device, including a seat belt retractor, since the purpose of Doust is to prevent damage to the spring, which consideration would have been applicable to any winding mechanism that uses a spring for retraction purposes.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-5, 7-10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lyman, Bosch and Gomez are cited to show other spring retraction devices.
